TYPERION.
An event of more than ordinary interest, both in the sporting and theatrical world, will be the joint appearance in this city to-night of Robert Gaylor in a brand new and up-to-date comedy drama called "In a Big City," in conjunction with the world's champion, James J. Corbett, who will spar four energetic rounds with R. McVey.

This is Mr. Corbett's last appearance in public prior to his coming battle with Bob Fitzsimmons for $10,000 and the heavy weight championship of the world, which he now holds. This contest takes place next October at Dallas, Tex.

Mr. Gaylor has been identified here in seasons past in farce comedy only and many of his numerous friends throughout the country have claimed for him, in all kindness, that his versatility was limited and that he was more a specialty artist than a character actor. Not so, however, has this been proved as his success in his new play has been most pronounced and his various impersonations call forth from the press unstinted praise.

Sale of seats now open.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The twelfth season of Mr. Bunnell's management of this house was opened last evening to one of the largest audiences seen at the house in a number of years. All were hearty in their praise of the great improvement in the main entrance. It makes a decided change in the appearance of the entrance. The piece which was offered last evening as the opening attraction was the laughable three-act farce comedy, "The New Boy," with Bert Coote in the title role. "The New Boy" does not scream. Instead it is a farce so near to comedy that it is as aptly termed a comedy. "The New Boy" is not a boy at all, but a sedate and serious minded married man, who is forced into knickerbockers again by his ample and dominating wife, and who goes to school once more against his will, finds himself in the hands of a lot of fun making Philistines, who pull and cuff him and make his wretchedness ridiculous. A schoolmaster who has managed to put by a fortune is going to dispose of it in a singular way. He has a cousin with whom he quarrelled because she went off and not married.

Not until the cousin is a widow does he become reconciled to her. Then he promises that she shall have all his fortune if she goes through life a single woman, or at any rate does not marry anybody but himself. In the face of the good luck that awaits her the married a second time. Her husband is young enough to be her son; his figure and face are youthful, too, but his mind is serious, his manners imposing and his language anything but that of a grammar school. Her husband and wife pay a visit to the schoolmaster, and the wife persuades her husband for the sake of the fortune to assume knickerbockers and pretend to be her son.

The situations which arise during his short time at school and the final straightening out of all in the last act are highly amusing and during the entire piece the funny situations kept the audience in a roar of laughter. Mr. Coote is deserving of great credit for his most excellent portrayal of "The New Boy," and that he will make a success of the part is assured. Mr. Fruesdell and Mr. Granville sustained their several parts to the entire satisfaction of the audience. Miss Louise Douglas as the wife and mother acted the parts with much credit. Miss Kingsley and Miss Lane are both deserving of special mention. Others in the cast that call for words of praise are Homer Granville, Emilie Le Croix, E. B. Harris and W. H. Maxwell. During the second act Mr. Coote was presented with two beautiful floral tokens. The pieces will be repeated this and to-morrow evenings and to-morrow afternoon. The executive staff for Mr. Bunnell this season includes: W. H. Starr, general manager; E. W. Van Buren, associate manager; E. George Morton, press agent; John H. Hendricks, treasurer; Louis Felsburg, leader of the orchestra; Walter Blackielee and Rene Thomas, stage manager and carpenter respectively, and W. P. Fisher, advertising agent. The improvements made during the summer were made under the direction of General Manager Van Buren and they reflect great credit on his ability to have made so artistic and beautiful entrances.

The Elliott family now appearing at Atlantic City will be one of the special attractions at Bunnell's Grand Opera house next week. The Elliotts are seven in number, and afford a most delightful entertainment, and exceedingly versatile in character. Added to this will be the complete series of Kilany's living pictures.

AT POLI'S WONDERLAND.
The season at Poli's Wonderland theater will begin next Monday afternoon. The theater has been extensively renovated and beautified, and it is handsomer than ever before. There is no house anywhere that plays vaudeville attractions which presents a better class of amusements.

For the opening attraction next Monday Mr. Poli has secured Sadi Alfarabi, the Russian balancing wonder and manipulator, who has been for some years now the chief attraction of the Imperial Russian Circus at St. Petersburg. Alfarabi has been the special feature of the Russian circus, and it was only on a strict promise of making only a very brief American tour that he was permitted to leave the royal presence. Upon concluding his American engagements early in the fall Alfarabi will at once return to St. Petersburg to remain indefinitely at the czar's favorite theater.

An extraordinary attraction has also been secured in Professor Macart's wonderful dog and monkey comedians. These animals are with probably no exception the greatest dog and monkey performers in America. Besides giving a most laughable exhibition of some of the tricks, serpentine dancing and boxing, they present a thrilling drama entitled "A Woman's Devotion," in which they personate firemen and give a realistic representation of the rescue of a child from the flames.

There are a number of clever specialty performers on the bill likewise, and present indications point to one of the best performances of the season during the opening week.

Won by the Americans.

London, Aug. 22.—The second game between the Boston amateur baseball club and the Derby nine was played to-day and was won by the Americans. Only seven innings were played. The game was an exciting one, and was pronounced to be the best ever witnessed in England. There was an immense attendance, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

The Idea of Re-birth.

One of the most curious facts in the whole range of modern thought is the almost sudden reappearance among us of the idea of re-birth, as a subject of reasonable speculation, a very probable theory, a plausible solution of many difficult problems; in a word, as an idea that must be seriously considered, and very probably will be accepted, as one of the working hypotheses of life. There is, of course, no absolute novelty in this idea of re-birth, of the gradual development of the individual through a series of lives. It is no absolute novelty even in Europe, or in the Europe of the last hundred years.

To touch on one or two salient points only. This idea in one form or another was held by Pythagoras; it is clearly taught by Plato; it is lucidly set forth by Virgil, though in a mythological guise. We are assured by Professor Goldstucker that it was a doctrine of the rabbis, who even went into the most precise details, declaring that Adam, David and the Messiah were successive appearances of the same individual; that the soul of Japhet reappeared in Simeon; that Teth reappeared as Job; that Thamar was re-born as Ruth. Even among the early Christians, St. Jerome relates the doctrine of re-birth was taught as a traditional and correct one, one communicated to a select few. For this Professor Goldstucker vouches. The idea of re-birth, therefore, was not foreign to either of the great sources of our western culture, the Hebrew and the Hellenic; and there was a certain acquaintance with it at almost every epoch of European life, during the last eighteen hundred years; the kind of acquaintance that we find in Shakespeare, for instance, who alludes again and again to the idea of Pythagoras. But Shakespeare only played with the idea. Rosalind had never been so rhymed since she was a rat in the days of Pythagoras, and so on. And here is the novelty. That, while the last ten or fifteen centuries were aware of the idea of re-birth, and only played with it, we have suddenly taken it seriously.

There were signs of this serious consideration at least a hundred years ago; but it is only within the last ten or fifteen years that the idea of re-birth has become widely known, universally thought about, and, I believe, very largely accepted. The two first men of light and leading who broadly, and thoughtfully accepted the idea of re-birth in modern Europe were Lessing and Schopenhauer. The arguments of Lessing, as summed up by Professor Goldstucker, are these: "The soul is a simple being, capable of infinite conception at the same time. It must obtain them gradually, in an infinite succession of time. If, however, it obtains them gradually, there must be an order in which, and a degree to which, these conceptions are acquired. This order and this measure are the senses. At present, the soul has of such senses five; but neither is there any ground to assume that it began with having five senses, nor that it will stop there. For, since nature never takes a leap, the soul must have gone through all the lower stages of sense, arrived at that which it occupies now, and since nature contains many substances and powers which are not accessible to those senses with which it is now endued, it must be assumed that these will be future stages, at which the soul will have as many senses as correspond with the powers of nature." "And this my system," concludes Lessing, "is certainly the oldest of all philosophical systems, for it is in reality no other than the system of the pre-existence of the soul and metempsychosis, which not only occupies the speculation of Pythagoras and Plato, but also before them of Egyptians, Chaldeans and Persians—in short, of all the sages of the east." Lessing, therefore, held the idea of re-birth quite unreservedly and very philosophically. And in Schopenhauer's system it is not only present—it is an indispensable necessity.—Madras Weekly Mail.

The Sunday Outing in New England.

Yesterday was a beautiful, summer Sunday. The weather was fine, the fields and forests, washed and refreshed by frequent showers, were radiant in beauty. The highways were free from dust. All inanimate nature beckoned to men and women to come out of the habitations they had built to protect them from the elements and enjoy themselves in the open air. The people of Manchester generally accepted the invitation. The excursion train to the beaches was loaded. The electric could scarcely begin to accommodate the thousands that set their faces towards the lake. Derryfield park was populous with visitors. The groves in every direction were dotted with picnic parties. The roads were everywhere enlivened by unending processions of bicycle riders. Whoever owned a horse and carriage called them into requisition. By the great majority of the fifty odd thousand men, women and children who live in our city, a portion of the day at least was given to enjoyment and recreation. Most of the Catholics attended church in the morning. Some of the Protestants, whose churches were not closed, did likewise; but nearly all confined their devotion to a brief season in the forenoon and afterwards went abroad. This was exceptional only so far as the delightful weather made an outing more enjoyable yesterday than on some other Sunday.

The character of the observance of the Sabbath has undergone a radical change. The day is quite as much a holiday as a holy day. It is with a majority of our people a day of rest, far more than a day of worship. There are still many who abide by the training they received in their youth, when they

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS

OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

NARCOTI-CURE is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in from four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from any injurious ingredients.

NARCOTI-CURE is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

NARCOTI-CURE is sold at the uniform price of $5.00 a bottle and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

THE NARCOTI-CHEMICAL CO.,
Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen—Referring to yours of the 1st, would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years, and of late have consumed a box of King of Kings tobacco daily. I commenced to use Narcoti-Cure when I was only 10 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took NARCOTI-CURE, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days, all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects whatever. I am gaining in flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would use NARCOTI-CURE.

Yours truly,
W. N. WAITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5.00 for a bottle by mail.

After the rail has been treated it is run to the rolls. Before entering the rolls it meets two revolving wire brushes that remove the scale. But two passes are made; the first, compressing the rail about three-fourths of an inch, fills out the worn places, and leaves only a light finishing pass to complete the re-rolling of the rail. Before the finishing pass, two steam jets remove the remainder of the scale which would interfere with a good finish being put on the rail. After passing through the rolls the rough ends are sawed off. In most cases inside of the first bolt hole. New holes are then bored, and the remainder of the process is like that in an ordinary rail mill.

About two feet is gained by elongation, though some rails are so badly worn as to necessitate the cutting off of a greater length. The finished rails are of as good appearance as the best new rails, and can be replaced in the main track. By this means a considerable saving is secured by the railroad companies, the exact amount, of course, being dependent on the price of new rails. The cost of renewing the rails is five dollars per ton, as against a cost of say twenty-five dollars per ton for new rails. This, however, does not represent a gain of twenty dollars, as old steel rails have a value of about ten dollars per ton when cut off and used for laying in main track or sidetrack, and as scrap steel.

Financial.

The Bulk of the Business Was in the Industrial.

New York, Aug. 22.—Stocks were feverish to-day, and, as of late, the bulk of the business was in the industrial. Tobacco monopolized speculation during the early session, but in the afternoon sugar forged rapidly to the front. Tobacco was very erratic in its course. The stock opened at 94, fell to 93½, bounded up to 95½, and closed at 95½ per cent, higher on the day at 95½. The selling at the start was due to the announcement that the outside manufacturers will meet in this city on September 4, to complete their arrangements for fighting the Trust. The stock, however, was hard to borrow, and commanded a small premium for use. This had a tendency to make small operators cover, and accounts for the rise noted. Sugar dropped from 108½ to 106½ on the reduction of the price of refined.

Toward the close, however, the stock was taken in hand and marked up to 109½. Lead, Linsed Oil, and Cotton Oil were weak and declined ¼ to 5/8 per cent. Chicago Gas dropped ¼ to 5/8 per cent. and rose to 61½ per cent. Operators in railway and standard stocks paid very little attention to the movements in the industrial, and railways ruled strong throughout. The crop news was a favorable character. There were no withdrawals of gold for shipment to Europe and the sterling exchange market was inclined to greater ease. London sold a block of St. Paul, but the stock was quickly absorbed. Rock Island was taken by brokers supposed to be acting for insiders. Chesapeake and Ohio was sold down ¼ to 20 per cent. by the plunger who recently broke Tobacco. Northwest was higher on the increase of $435,343 in earnings for the month of July. The August report, it is understood, will also be favorable. Lake Erie and Western jumped from 77½ to 82½ per cent. Minneapolis and St. Louis from 23½ to 25½ per cent.

In the last hour the market was higher in sympathy with the report in sugar. Speculation left off firm. Net changes show gains of ¼ to ¾ per cent. In the industrial the improvement ranged from ¼ to 1½. Lead, however, lost 1/8 per cent.

Bonds were higher. The sales aggregated $1,601,000.
